

ZION Youth Mission Trip

Adam Magill accompanied 16 youth to the Summer Games in Covington, Georgia on July 5-12. This is the second year he attended this camp. The camp is for discipleship training for 5th grade through college. The trainers are college youth. The bus picked up 50+ people from the area. They left on Saturday and returned on Saturday, with 5 days at camp. There were 300 youth at the camp.

Monday was altar call for Faith and Renewal. They form huddle groups where the leaders go to grab youth. Each huddle group is 6-10 youth. The huddle groups stay together all week, but compete with other huddle groups. The sports include football, basketball, and ultimate Frisbee.

Monday was altar call. Tuesday was pray with a friend. Wednesday was foot washing where they wrote their sins on their feet with markers. Their leaders washed off the markers.

Thursday was a crucifixion pageant. The pageant included Roman soldiers and people on the cross. It started with them singing Christmas songs. Friday was open mike.

Each day they have two huddle groups. They also have two large group worship times each day.

To raise money for the trip they used the can kennel, sold pizza cards, and donuts.
