

Treynorfan.com

Jennifer Andersen talked about treynorfan.com on October 9. This is her second year at Treynor. She grew up in Essex, went to Iowa State University, worked for Sperry – New Holland for 25 years, and completed a Masters in Education from Temple University eight years ago.

Treynorfan.com broadcasts live Treynor home events on the Internet. The web site also has archived video of past events. The web site started in January last year and contracts through CyaNet.com in Glenwood for server and storage support.

The web site is student run. The marketing class, introduction to business, and accounting classes all participate. The marketing class sells ads, designs ads, and produces variety shows for the site. Intro to Business writes commercials, and Accounting does the bookwork.
