

Iowa College Access Network

Steve Irwin spoke about the Iowa College Access Network (ICAN) at the Treynor Optimist Club meeting on August 15. ICAN is a 501c3. ICAN provides assistance to people to access a college education. 67% of jobs require a post-High School education or certification. Materials and presenters for High Schools are all free to schools and families. ICAN receives donations from universities and industries. The main customers are students and families, counselors, colleges and universities.

ICAN has 14 advisors statewide, helping 99% of Iowa High Schools. Steve serves 41 High Schools in Southwest Iowa. He works out of Council Bluffs SWIA Success Center, 877-272-4692.
