Guttaus speak about their Zoo experience

On Sat. January 12 at the Treynor Optimist meeting Mick and Judy Guttau shared a slide show of pictures taken in a "Behind the Scenes" tour at the Henry Doorly Zoo taken in July. The scheduled speaker, Stan Latta, Chaplain at the Pott Co. Jail, will speak at a later date.

The Guttaus were invited to participate in this four-hour tour by Kim and Anne McKeown, along with Ron and Joanie Tekippe of Council Bluffs and were hosted by Dr. Lee Simmons. Their golf cart was driven by the son of Melvin Houser, who works in administration at the Zoo.

From there they toured the area above the aquarium and were able to see staff feeding certain fish, saw tables of coral being developed, observed the fish including the jelly fish from above the tank. Below the aquarium, there were large holding tanks of water and we could observe where the water is filtered.

The tour started in the Administration Building which had beautiful sculptures of polar bears and is being used for educational purposes.

In the giraffe house, each in the group were given leaves of romaine lettuce to feed Sam, the 19 year old giraffe, who recently passed. Some were

For bragging rights, Dee Gutttau announced her nephew had finished harvesting just as the snow was beginning. Dale contributed to announce he has a house for rent and shared an interesting rental story. Keith Denton contributed to state that he had seen a good movie, "Second Hand Lion". Judy donated to give a salute to the good coaches in Treynor.

be the largest group of kids (25-30) to show and it took 4 adults to keep up with them tying bags.

John Klein stated there is another opportunity to apply for a $500 project grant from Opt International. He asked for project ideas. It was suggested that perhaps Vision Treynor or Cardinal Core would have some ideas. Dale Willenborg stated that he would look into the possibility of a group meeting of various community organizations to collaborate on ideas.
