The late word from Optimist International is that Governor Dale Robertson led the District to a Distinguished Honor year, the first time since 1996. #### FOR THE KIDS

MICK GUTTAU was a Cobra helicopter pilot during the Vietnam War. MICK shared a few stories of his experiences in training and on the battlefield with his military buddies. MICK said they truly believed in their mission in Vietnam and everyone was always concerned with those in trouble around them. A tee shirt MICK saw at the Vietnam Memorial in Washington, DC said it best with the slogan "If you need me I will come." Some of the more pleasant memories, MICK explained, were those concerning the children. He particularly remembered Christmas day on the airbase with children from a local orphanage. MICK said it made it easier to be there fighting the Viet Cong with the realization that they were fighting for a better future for the Vietnamese children. Mick noted he wrote a letter home to JUDY every day and they have a trunk of 700 letters, which might be transformed into a book some day.

P.S. A farmer and his wife were boarding their first flight and were a bit nervous. Prior to takeoff, a flight attendant walked back through the aisles handing out tiny travel kits to passengers. When she reached the farm couple she handed them a pack of bubble gum. "Here," she said, "this will keep your ears from popping at high altitudes."

As the couple departed the plane, the farmer called the flight attendant aside and said, "Thanks for the gum-but how do we get this darn stuff out of our ears?"
