Mick Guttau Speaks about Monument

Mick Guttau spoke on August 18 about the Dedication of the Vietnam Helicopter Pilot and Crewmember Monument. He and six of his Vietnam helicopter pilot buddies attended the ceremony on April 18 in Arlington Cemetery, VA. There were 3700 veterans, Gold Star families, and officials present. The monument is located about 300 feet from the amphitheater behind the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

Mick Guttau

The monument is inscribed with a Bell UH-1 (Huey) Helicopter, the years 1961-1975, and the words: "In honored memory of the helicopter pilots and crewmembers who gave the full measure of devotion to their nation in the Vietnam War." The Huey helicopter was the most used helicopter in the Vietnam War and used by all five branches. Mick pointed out that although the US has the Air Force branch, the largest air force in the world is the US Army.

During Vietnam, nearly 2000 pilots and over 2700 crewmembers lost their lives. Of the nearly 12,000 helicopters operating in Vietnam, 43% were destroyed by combat or accidents.

Mick shared a quote from the program: "The aviation units were the sole combat element...that did not come apart under the stress of the war in Vietnam...whether it was the oneness of man and the acrobatic flying machine, whether it was the equally shared risk of officer pilot and enlisted crew member, whatever the reason, the men of the helicopters kept their discipline and their spirit." Neil Sheehan – Author.

In that light, Mick shared that to this day there is misinformation about the Vietnam veteran in the media. It is verified that for the Vietnam vet the drug usage was less, the education level greater and the average income higher than the population in the US.

Helicopters performed more than 850,000 medical evacuations in Vietnam, which boost the survival rate for wounded from 10% in prior conflicts to 99% for the Vietnam War. Many lessons were learned about tactics. This information has also influenced changes in community hospital emergency rooms (ER) today. In the past, a young doctor would be assigned to an ER. Today training learned from war has been given to ER staff.

Even delivering Thanksgiving and Christmas dinners was part of the job description when combat stopped for a day. The common thread was the simple yet profound motivation to support those on the ground. In dropping food in Merimate containers, one holiday, Mick noted from the air an altar cloth on a Jeep and wondered if it was a Protestant or Catholic service and then realized it didn't make a bit of difference to those guys!
