Mark Funkhouser Speaks

Mark Funkhouser spoke to the Treynor Optimists on Saturday, February 15 about his experiences with the Nebraska State Patrol and as an investigator with National Indemnity Insurance Co. where he is the first full time fraud investigator employed. Mark is the son of Gary and Julie Funkhouser.

Mark joined the Nebraska State Patrol in 1987 and served as a trooper first at Beatrice, NE. He moved on to Omaha for five years and was involved with the DARE program and narcotics investigation. He became a sergeant and served in Lincoln for four years where he was in charge of evidence for the state. There he dealt with some insider fraud.

From 1997-2013 Mark ran the Investigative Department which dealt with the Nebraska state crime lab, fingerprint repository, sex offender records, vehicle fraud, narcotics, auto theft, etc. He dealt with crime in NE and in prisons.

After his retirement from the state patrol, Berkshire Hathaway hired Funkhouser to be the first full time investigator with National Indemnity Insurance co. There are now four full time investigators. They cover 50 states and deal with lots of commercial property. They avoid commercial property in hurricane areas. He spoke of the Gattenburg, TN fire where 600 properties were lost by fire. $100 million was paid out over six weeks.

In fraud cases, the bar is set high as both sides determine if they can win in a jury trial which requires a 51% vote. Jurists for fraud are now instructed to decide if "beyond a shadow of a doubt", rather than "beyond a reasonable doubt" as before.

Funkhouser stated that ten percent, based on value of payouts, of all insurance claims are fraud. In 2018 they installed claims system filters as triggers for fraud. Triggers would be if a claim is made (a) in the first 30 days of a new policy, (b) in the last two weeks of a policy, (c) exceed x number of claims on a policy, (d) change VIN on reported accident, (e) a rental property, etc.

Mark concluded by telling about a 2005 mummy case he was involved in investigating. It just came out as a feature on a tv program last March, "Secrets of the Morgue".

And.....we learned that being truthful and humble if stopped for speeding may just change a trooper's mind about a ticket!

Next week's program will be by Scott Wallace, new Treynor high school baseball coach. Join us from 8-9 AM on Saturday at the Treynor Community Building. All are welcome!
