Korbin Horton as Aladdin

Korbin Horton is a Treynor High School Senior who is currently playing the part of Aladdin in the Chanticleer Children's Theater production of Aladdin, Jr. which is playing at the Hoff Family Arts & Culture Center in Council Bluffs. The show will continue next Thursday through Saturday. Tickets can be purchased at www.paceartsiowa.org.

The theme is about a young poor boy (Aladdin) who makes his way through life and falls in love with a princess, but gets caught up with a bad guy, but finds a genie and gets three wishes.

Practices began in mid-June with rehearsals five days out of the week to work on lines, music, and dance. The show is 60 minutes long with a 15 minute intermission. The play opened this past Thursday and has drawn a large audience.

Korbin has performed in Fiddler on the Roof, plus other shows at the PACE Center as well as performances at Treynor High School. He plans to attend Northwest Missouri State after graduation to study theater and acting.

Korbin has loved theater and the Disney channel since he was a young boy and was in his first show in 6th grade. He tends to memorize all the lines one scene at a time and usually has it all down in two weeks. His dream job would be to be in a Touring Company, waking up in a different city every other week and performing in front of admiring audiences.

The Aladdin cast includes 45 people of ages 8-17 from various communities within a 40 min. drive area. There were several others, including his little sister Chloe, from Treynor who were in the show. He had a car load that he drove to all practices.

The play is directed by Denise Putnam and a host of volunteers help with all the details of the show. There are some great backdrops and lighting effects plus the Magic Carpet ride.
